For Judge of Court of Appeals,
R. K. WILLIAMS,
OF GRAVES COUNTY.

District Commissioner, William Butler, Breckinridge, Daviess, Dickenson, Caldwell, Owsley, Boone, Lewis, Madison, Fulton, Graves, Grant, Linn, Logan, Marshall, McCracken, Muhlenberg, Lyon, Ohio, Simpson, Todd, Trigg, Union, Warren and Webster.

There are men offering for office in this State who are disloyal; who would defy, not only the laws of the Federal Government to which this State belongs, but also the laws of this State. If elected, they will not hesitate to take the oath required, in order to secure to themselves the honors and emoluments of office. "A Citizen" proposes some questions to the Journal, Commonwealth and Democrat upon this subject. We reprint what the Commonwealth says in reply. It is just that every loyal man is bound to say. The crimes of perfidy are a disaster of the times. Men will swear to support the Constitutions, State and Federal, and deliberately break both, without the slightest remorse.

They will proclaim there is no Constitution and no Government, and swear to support the Constitution in order to get office under a Government whose existence they deny, and don't fail to take the fees. Judge Burns, who was captured by the Senate from office, has gone into the Confederate army; had not a court for some time; but with an ardentness of meanness, he applied for and drew his salary. Such men are not to be trusted. The second instance has blinded their moral sense. Their friends should not trust them; for there is no certainty as to their interpretations of promises or oaths. The man who would take an oath to support the Federal Constitution, and then propose to join the Southern Confederacy; or who would proclaim that we have no Government, and then offer for office under the Government, is fit for the Lunatic Asylum or the State Prison.

The Government doesn't seem to meet with remarkable success with its A's, or with its General's. There are not many of them, but wherever they are placed, they are sure to make some blunder at the expense of the Government. The first experiment was with Fremont. He was capital material. He had a rank in the army; he had been an explorer; he had been a candidate for the Presidency. General Lyon was suspended, and this mighty warrior put in his place. It was even found that he was ignorant, extravagant, and insolent, and he was removed. General Hunter, on the coast, next followed, and has had recently to receive the implied censure of the Government. Sumner, a professional soldier, but a better Abolitionist, has been suspended, it is said, for neglecting to reinforce Heintzelman; and, recently, General Banks has been driven back across the Potomac.

Of course we will hear excuses for this; but there are the facts; and a man whose excuse needs excuse is not the man to command armies. We think the country will demand that other men not put in the places of these. It is needless to put in any more ultraists. A man who is carried away with one idea to such an extent as to be a hellion, is not fit to be trusted with the lives and fortunes of our country. The negro man is especially fatal to all common sense. A man who has come to prefer the blacks to his own race, is not fit leader of white men, and the sooner this truth is acknowledged the better for the country. Send them off. Ship them away. Tell them to stedfastly. Send every regne of them to Topeka or Kansas.

Almost daily we hear reports of men slipping off to join the rebel guerrilla parties, intended for the plundering of Kentucky. These men are actuated solely by the spirit of robbery. They have no interest whatever in the event, except so far as they may be allowed to rob and destroy, under color of making war. They are a disgrace to the State, and to the cause they give their assistance to, base and immoral as it is. What can be thought of a man who deliberately, and with malice aforethought, sneaks off in the dead of night, to join a band of marauders, whose object is to return and plunder, and oblige their neighbors? Under all laws of peace and war, he is a common highwayman. His crime is that to which the law affixes the penalty of death. Those who aid and abet him are not only the seditors and abettors of treason, but of robbery and murder.

These men expect, by the time the harvest ripens, to return, backed by a large force, to stalk through by-paths, and in the dead of night plunder the cornfields and burn the homes of their neighbors and kinsmen. Not openly, but secretly, with the empty authority of a treasonable and discredited government, they propose to war upon the defences, to seize railways and the roads.

It seems impossible that such things can be; yet, at least, a thousand will have left the State, for no other purpose, and that with the knowledge and assistance of some men who may this day take the reader of this article by the hand in protestation of friendship.

The Richmond Examiner is tired of prayer and fasting; and is angry that Jeff Davis has been confirmed in the Episcopal Church. Indeed, the editor seems to feel indignant and scornful generally.

The handwriting on the wall has appeared again in Richmond. The Examiner seems to think lightly of it; but it evidently only whistles to up its courage.

The bill confessing negroes failed by a majority of four. So it is evident that negroes are as bad as if it were worse.

Gov. Magoffin has appointed Chas. Tauron Ballard, of Louisville, his Aid with the rank of Colonel.

A contemporary is disposed to institute an inquiry into the question as to which party is the worse—the one Lincoln has, or the one Buchanan had. It will require a very nice pair of soles to weigh the difference in the demeanor of those two parties. Buchanan's party called themselves Democrats; but Tophet is full of better Democrats than most of them. No party in this country ever departed further from the principles of the old apostles of the Democratic faith. We refer to the Buchanan politicians. They were a mob God-for-sake.

They have been superseded by another class, who went into power on their honesty to begin with; and have outstripped all the parties that ever existed in this country up to this day. Their opportunity has been extraordinary, and they have been equal to it and beyond it.

They have been rebels all their lives, and are rebels now. They avow it; and yet they are for a war of extermination upon rebels; and they profess to be fit, because they abhor rebellion. Their simulation is audacious.

We have these two parties, and shall not award the premium for meanness to either.

In regard to Abolitionism and Secessionism, it is difficult, if not impossible, to decide which is the father and which the son—Journal.

Abolitionism is clearly the father of Secession. The sins of the father are visited upon the children, unto the third and fourth generation; and the foul machinations of the two would destroy our glorious Union but for the conservative nature of the people which will ever hold them in check.

We understand that there are several magistrates in Jefferson county, open and avowed Secessionists, who are scheming and plotting and talking treason against the Government. This whole pack should be sifted, and the oath of loyalty administered them.

At Memphis, on the 18th inst., coffee was selling at $2 50 per pound; rice, 20¢ per pound; beef, 35¢ per pound; flour, $20 and $24 per barrel. These are rebellion prices, and people are paying them to get their rights.

All the permits authorizing marriages, says the Richmond Dispatch, have been removed from the Confederate Capital. That is the most sweeping act of opposition to union we have heard yet.

The rebels claimed to have a free Government, but the most ultra rebel of their stockade would be exonerated for wishing that all men were as he was, "save these bonds."

There are no salt-sellers in the South now—Journal.

Perhaps a certain clerical gentleman of this city will undertake to supply the deficiency.

The Southern cause, a contemporary says, is fit to die for. Yet; and it's all it is fit for. Its success will bring no blessing to the South, and its failure no injury.

The tax on pianos and organs has been struck out of the tax bill; so it appears the United States does not expect to pay by note.

When churches are divided by the war, the members should be sent to the meadow field, as it shows the churches are growing in size.

The rebels still claim the half of the whole country, which includes the border States; but we notice they always except quarter.

Beargard has changed his name from "G. T." to "P. T." It is supposed he excuses the change upon the rebel petition that it was a "letter alone."

The Juarez Government of Mexico has been overthrown; so we may expect the trial of when the draft of a vessel is thirty feet, ought it to run faster than a vessel with half as many feet?

The rebel peace party was for breaking the country in two in order to keep the peace.

The Banks of the Potomac appear to have been overrun lately.

THE ADVANCE OF THE UNION FLEET UP THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER.—A correspondent of the Boston Journal, writing from New Orleans on the 8th, gives the following definite and gratifying information about the movements of Commodore Farragut's fleet after the capture of New Orleans:

"Leaving General Butler to administer the affairs of the Union in this city, and the ship-of-war Pensacola, and gunboat Albatross to exercise a wholesome influence over the remaining portion of the command, Flag Officer Farragut, following up that success which he had obtained so splendidly, has proceeded up the Mississippi, with the determination of reducing the defences above this city, and joining Commodore Foote. The impression prevails among those best informed, that he will meet with little opposition, as all the rebel defences above this city have been contrived with a view of opposing a fleet coming down, rather than one passing the river, and intelligence already received confirms this opinion. The ship-of-war Brooklyn, Onida, and Iroquois and the gunboats Stots, Winona, and Peoria, left her on the 1st. On the 7th, the Hartford (flag ship), the Richmond, Mine, and Iroquois sailed, and this morning (the 8th) the Mississippi and Wisconsin got under way and steamed up.

A NEW FULMINATING SPUR FOR IRON-CLAD SHIPS.—A French naval officer holding high command has tendered his resignation, in order to devote himself to the completion of a new fulminating spur, which he has invented for iron clad ships, which will not only drive in the side of a ship, but will lodge in its interior and explode the shell of the most dangerous character.

"The conservative men of the North and the border States," says the Washington correspondent of the New York Times, "could save the Union and restore peace to its broad extent in thirty days, if the decisive element of radical abolitionism was crushed out of Congress." That is a palpable truth, and its admission comes through a very proper source.

The handwriting on the wall has appeared again in Richmond. The Examiner seems to think lightly of it; but it evidently only whistles to up its courage.

The bill confessing negroes failed by a majority of four. So it is evident that negroes are as bad as if it were worse.

Gov. Magoffin has appointed Chas. Tauron Ballard, of Louisville, his Aid with the rank of Colonel.

NUMBER 238.

[From the Frankfort Commonwealth.]

"A writer, over the signature of 'A Citizen,' has, through the columns of the Louisville Commonwealth, Democrat and Journal, made the following propositions:

"1st. Here arose discontents or secessionists, alias southern rights speakers, the right, under the laws of the United States, and this State, to take the issue in the demeanor of those two parties. Buchanan's party called themselves Democrats; but Tophet is full of better Democrats than most of them. POLICE PROCEEDINGS—Tuesday, May 27, Conrad Harkman, drunk and disorderly conduct, and assaulting a young lady; taken to prison.

Samuel Stanford, an old man, aged about ninety years, drank a little too much beer; being of such advanced age and promising to leave the city immediately, if not sooner, he was discharged.

John Dunn, charged with stealing a pair of pantaloons worth over four dollars; sentenced until to-morrow morning.

W. Murray, charged with fast riding, and carrying concealed, a deadly weapon; fined $6, and held to bail in $100 to answer on indictment; gave bail.

Mike Haley, charged with fast driving; fined $5.

Rachel, a slave of Lewis Janson, and Frank, a slave of Isaac Miller, charged with arson.

John Cochran was bailed out of the courthouse.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.—Last evening, as the steam fire engine, "Sim. Watkins, No. 5," was proceeding to the fire, she capsized on the corner of Eighth and Broadway, by which accident Capt. F. M. Atkinson had his left leg maimed in a horrible manner—so much so that amputation will be deemed a necessity. We hope he is not so dangerously crippled as reported, for he has been an old and efficient fireman in this city for a number of years.

THE TABLAUX.—Notwithstanding the inclement weather last night, Masonic Temple was crowded with a fashionable and appreciative audience. The entertainment was indeed conducted with the skill worthy of those who took part in it. The songs were admirably sung, and the whole affair is worthy a repetition at some not far distant period.

BROKEN LEG.—An Irishman named Malachi Gilmarter, who was assisting to load hay into a wagon from a store on Fourth street, between Main and the river, met with a sad accident yesterday evening. A bale of hay fell upon his breaking one of his legs. It is thought amputation will not be necessary.

FIRE.—Yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, a fire broke out on Magazine, between Ninth and Tenth streets, but was extinguished without much damage. The steam engines were promptly on the spot, but were not called into service.

THEATER.—To-night Miss Kate Fisher will produce a dramatization of one of Dickens' best stories—Dot, or the Cricket on the Hearth. Miss Fisher will appear Dot. From what we have seen of her, we think she will render the character in good style.

A NUISANCE.—There is a huge mud hole—general rendezvous for hogs to wallow in, at the corner of Floyd and Market streets, which should at once be filled up and attended to by the Street Inspector of the Eastern District.

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD.—See advertisement of Diamond Cross Lost. A very liberal reward is offered to the finder, who will either leave it at this office or at Wm. Kendrick's jewelry store, Third street.

COUNCIL.—The two Boards of the Council were in session last night. The Board of Aldermen passed the Palio Bill as it was amended by the Common Council. The Council will meet again to-morrow evening.

THE Shelby Street Church.—Milo Society met last night at the residence of Mr. O. Olmstead. It was an evening heartily enjoyed and well spent by those who were in attendance.

WELL DONE.—The picnic at Knapp's Garden, on the 19th, for the benefit of the St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum, netted, after paying all expenses, the handsome sum of $2,208.48.

There will be a splendid picnic given by Captain E. H. Miller's company of Provost Guards, in Miller's Woods, to-morrow. A gay time is anticipated—much fun!

A RUNAWAY.—Last evening a horse attached to a spring wagon became frightened and ran out Tenth street, completely demolishing the wagon. None hurt.

Our market houses are bountifully supplied with edibles. We noticed a large and elegant supply of strawberries yesterday morning.

THANKS.—We are under obligations to Messrs. Wilson and Colline, of Adams Express, for Nashville and St. Louis papers yesterday.

RAIN.—We had a small sprinkle of rain last evening—enough to lay the dust, but not enough to cool the air.

Third street and out to the House of Refuge is becoming the popular road for an evening drive.

THANKS.—We are thankful to our good looking friend, O. B. Smart, Esq., for numerous favors.

What is to be Done?

We have already called the attention of our City Council and merchants to the danger that our trade with the lower Ohio will be entirely cut off from this city, unless something is done, and that speedily, as a remedy. In this connection we call attention to the following items, from the New Albany Ledger of last evening:

"The receipts of tobacco at this point continue very heavy. The Grey Eagle yesterday put off one hundred fifteen bushels, and every boat from this point charges more than twice of this great staple upon our landing. The low water on Portland bar will soon cause a cessation of all shipments above this point."

"The river in front of Portland is rapidly filling up with sand washings from the bay shore. There is now more than five feet water at the landing for boats to load on, and this daily becoming more scant from the accumulation of sand."

What to do, is the question, and one that ought to be decided very soon. As a temporary relief, we suggest the paving of Fountain Ferry road to the river, and the grading and paving of a wharf in West Louisville, if it can be done under the authority of the Council.

RICH AND RARE.—We are indebted to Mr. L. A. Civil, Main street, for a package of extras, well worth having. A pencil with a rubber attached, only ten cents—everybody should have one; a sample of the miniature or card portraits of prominent patriots and rebels; samples of the Parlor Gems, consisting of beautiful illustrations in tint or cards—these latter only cost fifteen cents each, and are very pretty little ornaments, especially the one entitled, "Just Nine Seconds."

Also for the following books: Historical War Maps, beautifully gotten up for pocket use, 25 cents. A poem in four cantos, called "Our Flag," which we don't much admire, as it carries a falsehood in its title page. Ariosto Ward's Book, giving his wonderful experiences in all parts of the world, a book to our taste. Lyrics for Freedom, consisting of short poems of a patriotic or national character. And last, though by no means least, Victor Hugo's celebrated work, Les Misérables, which was suppressed for 25 years by the authorities in France. Call on L. A. Civil.

SEIZURE OF CONFISCATED PROPERTY.—Mr. E. H. Glasscock, United States Marshal for the Middle District of Tennessee, on last Saturday seized upon the following printing offices in Nashville, as property forfeited to the United States, under the Confiscation Act of August 6, 1861: Republican Banner office, Union and American office, Gazette office and Southern Methodist Publishing House; and on Monday the Patriot office and Baptist Publishing House, being all the offices in the city. He also seized upon two gun factories in South Nashville, belonging to stock companies.

AID AND COMFORT.—Mrs. N. B. Smith, President of the Soldiers' Aid Association, requests us to acknowledge a second contribution for sick soldiers from Dr. Gibson, proprietor of the Capitol Drug Store, corner of Third and Green streets. The wines, cordials, and toilette articles will be gratefully received by the invalids of the hospitals. Dr. Gibson has also contributed a box of pamphlets and reading matter for the soldiers.

GEN. HARVEY.—This officer, of whom we have heard so little since he was relieved of command at St. Louis, still resides on his property near that city. A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says:

"Gen. Harvey is living very retired and retired here, having recently bought a fine farm in addition, and comes into the city occasionally, attracting a good deal of attention by his sedentary bearing, yet devoid of all military trapping, his dress being a plain suit of black. He doubtless watches the movements on the great chess-board, in the game of the 'Union,' with a good deal of interest."

There are many who believe that the keeping of Harvey out of service is a great mistake. He has been 44 years in the army, and is outranked only by McClellan, Fremont, Halleck and Wool.—Detroit Free Press, 24th.

CONFEDERATE NOTES NOT CURRENT.—There was a new dodge in the markets this morning, which gave great annoyance and trouble to persons having pretensions to buy. Most of the purchasers seemed to buy money but others stamps and specie or to make an examination between them. Though the city had announced its determination to receive the various issues of individuals, and in their place put in circulation its own notes, some, and indeed most of the butchers, refused to take the issue of the most responsible persons in the city, or to change Confederate notes. There being a great scarcity of city notes, but few persons were able to make any purchases. The consequence was that many persons had to go about buying banknotes, and fortunate will be those who have salt meat for dinner.—N. O. Delta, May 8th.
